Candi,

To a really good friend. Remember all our good times in Biology and chem. Remember how we never knew what was going on. This year we'll really have to get involved with everything. Maybe we'll have loads of guys following us around. Never ever forget the baseball season.

Remember the night I spent with you and what we did to Steve?

That was really fun. And you know that I'll never forget.

Craig and especially Ric. Remember our great Driver training and how I got beat a million times. How about on interstate and parallel parking? Oh well so much for all that. How about that great slumber party we all had and how Melinda and Suzi lied to us about what time it was. We really had a good year, especially when we went to South Carolina over Easter. This year you're coming with me to Pennsylvania! Do you remember Sadie Hawkins dance, and how scared I was! How about that slow dance with Carl! Oh well

I had to learn sometime. You know I really hate for the summer to close, cause I know it and so we'll never be the same. Some of the guys (generals) we'll never see again. But we'll have to do everything we can together for the next two years, cause when we hit college we'll never be the same again. We'll all have to get together soon again. All of us joining explorers we'll be together and can have lots of fun. Remember the paint battle

we had in South Carolina? That was fun. Remember

Picky and how he used to tease me about "V"? How about those notes we wrote and I thought he wouldn't give it a "V" and he did! I about died. How about when Louis ~~was~~ used to call and come by! He was so dumb. I used to come over your house every day before behind the wheel just to see Craig and Steve. I really miss Craig

Candi,

Tell what a year we had last year.

Remember the time we went to the beach. It took us all afternoon to find a room, because all the Shriners were in town. By the time we finally got our rooms the sun had gone in. I don't forget our sociable neighbor and all. Member all the times we went places together when we hated each others guts, especially the time we went to Mass.

It's a wonder we made it through Bio. last year.

Remember all the good times in Phys. Ed. we used to have.

I don't forget the "going away" party we gave Melinda. Remember when we went to Payne Hills and sang while we swang on the swings (what a mouthful) Remember going to Fattie's and "passing out" on the ground we saw Neil and Kent. I don't forget soaping Bobby's windows. I could go on but I'm running out of space. Love ya

A NEW ERA FOR SKYLINE

In this Bicentennial year, we have all been repeatedly reminded of our country's heritage. But perhaps what is most important about this year is time. In these 200 years, our country has grown from a vast wilderness to the world's leading nation. Likewise, Waynesboro High School has changed from a one building complex to a building of many additions. The newest of these additions opened this fall. It included a classroom addition and the Louis Spilman Auditorium.

These and so many things happen in such a short amount of time: kindergarten — high school, high school — college, college — job, job — marriage, marriage — children, and the cycle starts again.

With all this emphasis on time, it seems only right to name this Bicentennial yearbook of W.H.S. "Time". Perhaps as you go through this book, either leaping through rapidly or scrutinizing every punctuation mark, you will remember your high school days and the Bicentennial year.

A TIME FOR RECOGNITION

For the past five years, the Skyline Yearbook staff has had a unifying force who has been through many missed deadlines, many missing pictures, and many exciting moments. The Skyline owes very much to one man, and that man is Andrew L. Shifflett. Mr. Shifflett has dedicated much time and effort to the production of Skyline. His financial knowledge has brought the staff budget out of the poor condition it was in when he took over the position of staff advisor. Since Mr. Shifflett has done so much for Skyline this year, and in previous years, as editor of this book, I dedicate Skyline '76 to my advisor, Mr. Andrew L. Shifflett.

IN MEMORY OF . . .

There always remains feelings of disdain and loss when a life of a special and talented young person is lost, but when that person is a beloved classmate, the impact is severe and leaves a vast emptiness. Now we are only able to refer to memories of Mike Mullet, well-preserved in his as well as in our hearts.

PARTY TIME

"Monday Morning Hangover."

TIMELESS EXPRESSIONS

"What?"

"Where's the little girl's room?"

"Wolfman Shiflett"

"I beg your pardon!"

"Remember you need Government to graduate."

"I'll get it right this time, just don't hit me again."

"Kissy, Kissy."

"What do you mean, five more laps around the gym?"

SPIRIT

Backing up the cheerleaders, the spirited fans urge their school on to victory. School spirit is found in students and parents alike and is exemplified in the way the crowd has given support to their team. Suffering through the losses along with the players, they show their anxiety as they offer that needed encouragement.

With intricate hand-clapping these husky-voiced cheerleaders cheered the senior girls on to victory in the Powder Puff Football Game.

These junior girls spent many afternoon in preparation for the Powder Puff Football Game.

What is a basketball game without a pep band adding some spirited music?

Little giant mascot, Tony Farr, swings his club to show the unconquerable WHS spirit.

The cheerleaders step together to arouse the crowd at the start of a new quarter.

SADIE HAWKINS

As in years past, the Beta Club sponsored a high-spirited Sadie Hawkins Dance. Taking place in true hill-billy fashion, the dance displayed couples in a variety of country costumes. A "humdinger" of a local band, "Free Trog," provided some real "down-home" music.

Vicki Floyd and Mark Taylor take their final vows during the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Parading in her patched pantaloons, Sylvia Downey bounces to the music.

A "gussied up" Rosemary Richardson does the "cornpone polka" to some real foot-stomping music.

Showing satisfaction with his ecumenical duties, the Rev. Mike Steele prepares to perform another marriage ceremony.

Keith Folsom gets into the "swing of things" with a little help from Inga Wright.

Towering over Susan Hammock, Greg Evans does the "barnyard shuffle."

Homecoming Queen Missy McMullen stands in a moment of disbelief as the traditional crown is placed on her head.

WHS Principal, Thomas Muncy, hugs newly-crowned Homecoming Queen Missy McMullen.

Escorted by Kenny Baker, Sharon Campbell takes a memorable walk to her place in the Homecoming Court.

With great anticipation, Missy McMullen and Doug Gillette eagerly await the Homecoming festivities.

A composed Bill Belcher escorts the effervescent Cheryl Augustin.

STARRY, STARRY NIGHT

With a tremendous team effort the Pep Club sponsored another successful Homecoming Dance. Beneath a canopy of stars, the dancers stepped lively to the music of "The Soul Experience."

The 1975-76 Homecoming Court and their escorts were:

Homecoming Queen:

Missy McMullen — Doug Gillette

Senior Representatives:

Cheryl Augustin — Bill Belcher

Sharon Campbell — Kenny Baker

Junior Representatives:

Teresa Lovegrove — David Frazier

Dodie Beverage — Dirk Niedentohl

Sophomore Representatives:

Faith Taylor — Andy Turner

Dawn McAllister — Rusty Buchanan

Swinging under gaily striped streamers, these dancers enjoy a sensational Homecoming Dance.

After a gala halftime performance, the WHS Band marches off the field.

"The Soul Experience" sings out some soulful tunes during the "Starry, Starry Night."

Queen Missy McMullen "bumps" her way into the hearts of her loyal subjects.

STUDENTS ON THE JOB

For a number of Waynesboro High School students, afternoons are filled with more than just homework. From a few hours of work a week to full-time jobs, these students take on large responsibilities and have earned the respect of their employers. The need for extra spending money or a savings for some special item provides incentives for all this work.

With great dexterity, Carl Bishop meticulously maneuvers his broom throughout an endless maze of aisles.

Wearing his cowboy hat, Dick Merriken looks more like a steer rustler than a steak griller.

No need to worry about unsterile instruments when you are in the hands of Suzanne Foley who assists in a local orthodontist's office.

"Taking pride in pleasing," Greg Poland pencils out another order.

Unmindful of the world outside his corner of the store, Alan Wilkinson is intent upon his duties as cashier.

Job Placement Director, Mr. William Blosser, endeavors to find a suitable job for another student.

Moving the lantern in a number of positions, Janie Melendez finds the best angle for its shadowgram.

Representatives from NATO sum up some of the organizations activities to a group of social studies students in the library.

With great expertise, Billy Gunn delivers the keynote address at the Virginia State Youth Highway Conference in Richmond.

A lively discussion in one of Mr. Shifflett's humanities classes provokes a number of responses.

A mock trial in an American history class gives students the opportunity to review both sides of a case.

STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

Getting involved in extracurricular activities as well as school work makes a student's life more enjoyable. There are ample opportunities for everyone to pursue their own interests. Clubs, sports, and class-related activities provide ways for students to express themselves while providing services to the school and community.

Having thoroughly researched their topic, the debate team is now ready for another meet.

Taking aim at a basket, Ronnie Prettyman warms-up for a quick game during his phys-ed period.

As President of the Student Body, Tony Bare takes over the responsibility of opening each assembly.

A lunch break offers an opportunity for nourishment as well as relaxation for Babs Webb and Arlene Woody.

With arm extended, Teresa Heatwole sheds some light on the subject.

Slumped in a lonely hallway, Sonya Clay finds time for some last minute cramming.

The long wait until third lunch prompts a lengthy line of hungry students.

After lunch, Carrie Krog finds time for a joke with some friends.

STUDENTS AT LEISURE

In the midst of the busy school day, everyone must find time for some leisure. A bit of rest and relaxation revitalizes one's energy. A quiet chat with a friend or a hot lunch eases some of the pressures and helps students make it through the long hours of school.

A respite from an invigorating tennis game gives Greg Williams the chance to relax in the shade.

With good intentions, Terry Ritchie and Vivian Brown start to study, but revert to exchanging gossip.

With a familiar Paris landmark in the background, former WHS student, Chris Sandquist, is reunited with Doris Snyder and Chris Edwards, members of the WHS faculty.

WHS students, Joe Rosenberger, Chris Byrd, Jed TenHoeve and Wendy Buehler of Stuarts Draft High School enjoy the beautiful scenery along La Grande Corniche on the French Riviera.

RETURN TO FRANCE

The seventh annual European tour for the members of the Shenandoah Valley Cultural Association made a triumphant return to France, scene of a previous tour in 1971. As in the past, students and teachers from Waynesboro High School were among those who spent their Easter Vacation abroad. The trip included tours to Paris, Nice, Avignon, Monaco, Marseilles, and a brief excursion to Italy. Highlights of the trip were visits to the Roman Aqueduct near Avignon, the world-reknownd Riviera, Monte Carlo, and several glorious days exploring the enchanting city of Paris.

Participants in the 1976 European tour pose in front of the Oceanographic Museum in Monaco.

The scenic beauty of the French Riviera captivates Mark and David Cline.

STUDENTS IN GOVERNMENT

In hopes of understanding our government better, WHS students participated in a Model General Assembly sponsored by the Staunton Bicentennial Commission. Learning by doing, the students from Staunton, Waynesboro and Augusta County spent three days hectically introducing, discussing and passing bills. In addition to learning about the Virginia General Assembly, government students tramped through Washington, D.C. observing the federal government first hand.

Waynesboro Representatives, Scott Steagall, Chris Byrd and Mike Steele give their undivided attention to a speaker on the House Floor.

WHS students, Antha Gail Harlow, Tammy Akers, and Irene Ultee hastily return to the bus after an exhausting visit to the Smithsonian Institution.

Taking the oath of office, Jeff Woodie is sworn in by Virginia State Supreme Court Justice Cochran as Governor of the Model General Assembly.

TIME TO GET STARTED

Three years is a long time to be together. Yet, the Senior Class of WHS has been together in work, in fun, in hard times, and in good times, but always with people to take charge to see that things were run smoothly. The class officers and Senior Committee saw to it that all projects were done with ease and order. These were not the only ones who worked; they were backed up and supported by an even larger group, the Senior Class, the Class of '76.

Pointing out the finer aspects of the presidents of the U.S., Jim Pitman lectures to an attentive class.

Keeping "on top" of things, including the school building, are this year's class officers: Suzanne Foley, secretary; Jordan Schlick, treasurer; Warner Sandquist, president; and Cheryl Augustine, vice-president.

The members of the Class Council, "the voice of the Senior Class," are those that organize and develop the plans of the year's activities.

1. STANLEY REA ADCOCK: ICT I and II.
2. MARY ALICE AKERS: Band, Beta Club, Science Club, J.V. Show. "We can complain because rose bushes have thorns, or rejoice because thorn bushes have roses."

 16. JEFF BROWN

STATERS GAIN EXPERIENCE

This past summer, WHS sent fifteen representatives to Boys and Girls State. The girls spent one week at Longwood College and the boys at Lynchburg College. They learned about our government and the way in which it is run. They all had a full week of lectures and presentations, but they also had time to relax, have fun, and get to know other students from other areas.

Another "serious" discussion in Humanities is conducted by Mr. Andrew Shifflett.

This year's Boys State representatives were, clockwise from front, Bruce Hoffman, Jeff Woodie, Jed TenHoeve, and Scott Steagall. Absent from the picture were Scott Mounts, Mike O'Hanlan, and Greg Poland.

1. JOHN F. BUNCH: CJ Art Club, Band — San Francisco trip. "Life is a mirror. What goes in always comes out; at one time or another!"
 2. BARBARA J. BURKETT: Varsity Basketball Team, Beta Club, National Honor Society, Science Club, Teenage Republicans. "Most of the shadows of this life in our own sunshine."

 3. DANNY RAY BURNETT: ICO, VICA, Valley Vocational Tech. School.
 4. TANA SUE BURNETT
 5. CHRISTOPHER MARK BYRD: PYE,

Science Club, Beta Club, Forensics, Nat. Honor Society (Vice-pres.) JV Show, Sr. Play. "Don't worry about it."
 6. LINDA MARIE CABE: Beta Club, NHS, Science Club, Director — JV Show, Drama Club, Festival One-Act-

'76, Sr. Play, Governor's School for the Gifted. "I am not afraid of tomorrow; for I have seen yesterday, and I love today."
 7. ARTHUR MELENDER CAMPBELL III
 8. DAVID BRUCE CAMPBELL: "I have fought a good fight."

TIME TO REMEMBER

The Junior Variety Show started out as an idea, was formed and shaped into reality, presented, but did not fade away without leaving many memories. All the long hours and hard work that were put into the show were worth it. The building of the temporary stage, props, and backdrops proved to be challenging. The long rehearsals, the rushing around, the wondering "if we can pull it off" kept everyone on the go. But most of all — a class was brought closer together and the result was a great show, happy people, and memories of times spent together.

"I could really use — two cups of — my Bonnie lies over the ocean."

The town drunk, John Blanchard, tries to liven up another meal at the local "soup kitchen."

WHS's "Elvis," Randy Clark, performs another of his many numbers.

1. DEBRA KAY CAMPBELL: (DW) Pep Club, Keyettes, Pep Band, Powder-Puff Football (Linebacker, Tackler). "If you see someone without a smile — give him one of yours."
2. LISA GAYLE CAMPBELL: Mixed Chorus, Jr-Sr Chorus, Pep Club, Library Council, Teenage Republicans. "Yesterday is but a dream and tomorrow is only a vision; but today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope!"

3. SHARON D. CAMPBELL: JV and Varsity Cheerleading, SODA, Student-Faculty Advisor Board (Sec.), Lettermen's Club, Sr. Comm., Powder-Puff Football, JV Show, Homecoming Court, Soph. Class

Sweetheart, Pep Club, Prom, Finals, Sr.Play.
4. SHERRI LYNN CAMPBELL: Member of FSA (Junior year), Parliamentarian of FBLA (Senior year). "Live today to its fullest, for tomorrow may never come."
5. BEVERLEY JEAN CASH: (HOT-DOG) DE I, II, III, State and National

DECA Club, FHA, Pep Club. "Wherever you go, I will go, Wherever you live, I will live; Your people shall be my people And your God shall be my God" — Ruth 1:16.
6. JAMES CAULS: (JIMMY) Football, Baseball. "Brothers and sisters don't get too stoned and drink too much steam."

"STARRY NIGHT"

Dancing under a canopy of stars and beautiful music, being with the person you enjoy the most; these all make beautiful memories known as Homecoming. This year, Missy McMullan was crowned Homecoming Queen, and sharing her happiness was her escort, Doug Gillette. The other senior attendants were Cheryl Augustin, escorted by Bill Belcher, and Sharon Campbell, escorted by Kenny Baker. "The Soul Experience" kept the dance floor busy for "Starry, Starry Night," filling people's heads with wonderful music and memories of an unforgettable night.

1. RANDALL LYNN CLARK: Baseball, Football, FCA, JV Show, Senior Play, Mixed Chorus, Library Council. "Now life slaps us in the face."
2. SONYA ELAINE CLAY
3. GORDON RAY CLAYTOR
4. LEWIS MICHAEL CLINE: Beta Club (10,11,12), Vica Club — treas. in 11, vice-pres. in 12, FBLA Historian in 12. "May God be with you and keep you and may he bring you many blessings in life. My life is controlled by God and I hope yours is also for He is everything, the beginning and the end."

5. STEVE BLAINE CLOONAN(HIP): "You only live for one thing and that is to Jam, so JAM on!"
6. DEBORAH LEE COFFEY (DEBBIE): Majorettes 74-75, Feature Twirler 75-76, FSA, DE I, II, III. "But losing everything is like the sun going down on me!"
7. DEBRA SUE COFFEY (MERT): Vica, reporter for Vica in Cosmetology II, Girl's Softball Team. "You only have one life to live so enjoy it while you can! So everyone party!"

8. MARGIE O'HANLON COFFEY
9. PATRICIA COLE
10. MARY JANE COLLIER (JANEY, POLAR RABBIT): Concert Choir 74-76, PYE (sec.), Pep Club, Girl's Track, Jr. Class Council, Soph. Class Council, JV Show, Drama Club, Annual Staff (Jr. and Sr. editor), Senior Play, Mixed Chorus 73-74, Concession Stand, Prom, Finals, SVCA, Fall Foliage Festival, Honor Thespian, Head Thumper. "Que pasa?" "Look to this Day for it is Life, the very Life of Life, do not seek Death — for it will find you."

11. VICKIE LYNN COMER: Pep Club, Chorus, Clerk Typist II. "To love and be loved by that special person makes life worth living."
12. DONALD EDWARD CONNER (FLEA): Manager JV Basketball, Manager Varsity Baseball, Beta Club, Science Club, JV Show. "Stand in thine own light."
13. RONALD LEE COOK
14. JOHN EDWARD COOPER

Homecoming Queen, Missy McMullan, shows her bumping style with Steve Brooker.

1. JOSEPH ANTHONY COOPER
 2. BEVERLY CRAIG FISHER: (BEV) Soph. year — VICA. "Believe, and you will succeed."
 3. ROBIN DENISE CRAUN: Chorus 1973-74, FSA 74-75, FBLA 75-76, Clerk-typist II. "Walk through the light of happiness and hope it never grows dim."

 4. ROBERT HUNTER CUSTARD
 5. JOWAN ANITA CYRUS
 6. TERESA LOUISE DAGGY: (DAGWOOD, MYRTLE MAE) Concert Choir (3 yrs), Regional Chorus (2 yrs), All-

Va. Chorus, Pep Club, Drama Club, One-Act Play Festival (2 yrs), Soph — Class Treasurer, Jr — Class Council, JV Show, Prom, Boy's Varsity Basketball Statistician, Girls State, Powder-Puff Football, Lunchroom Follies, Sr. Comm., Sr. Play, Finals. "Explain not

— friends don't expect it, and enemies won't believe it."
 7. JENNIFER DAVIS
 8. NANCY PATTERSON DAVIS: Keyettes, JV Show. "Success is getting what you want; happiness is wanting what you get."

TIME FOR HUMOR

Life around WHS is a major happening for all seniors. In classes, in the lunchroom, in the halls, and on the grounds, seniors can always find humor in everything they encounter. Whether "teaching" teachers how to bump, looking for a new friend, or helping one another, the seniors turn a routine day into an unusual experience.

Mr. Andy Shifflett shows Sharon Campbell one of the finer characteristics of "Humanism."

1. RICHARD ALLEN DAY
 2. JOYCE ANN DEDRICK: DE I, II, III. "Live to the fullest in life, be yourself, no matter what others think of you."
 3. ANNETTE DICKERSON: (BUNNY, BUNS) JV Cheerleading, Keyettes, Pep Club, DE I, II, Chorus 73-76, Varsity Cheerleading 74-75. "Life is too short to be wasted in hatred, revenge, fault-finding, prejudice and destruction."

 4. CHRISTINA ANNE DONG: (PEARL MAE) Soph — Class Council, BETA Club, Keyettes, Library Council, Concert Choir, YFOTG, SODA. "All can hear, but only the sensitive can understand."
 5. SYLVIA LYNNE DOWNEY: JV and Varsity Cheerleading, Pep Club, Lettermen's Club, Keyettes (Treas), BETA

Club (Sec) Student Advisory Board, Drama Club, Science Workshop (Alternate), JV Show Script Comm., Teen-Age Republicans, SVCA, Who's Who, Sr. Play, Prom, YFOTG. "God grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, Courage to change the things I can, And the Wisdom to know the difference."
 6. JOHNNY HOLMES DOYLE: (JD) JV

Basketball, 2 yrs. Varsity Basketball, 3 yrs. Varsity Baseball, Art Club, Lettermen's Club, Prom, JV Show, Glee Club. "If you are up high roll your rocks off the hill."
 7. DAVID FREDERICK DUCKHARDT: Mixed Chorus. "One should absorb the color of life, but one should never remember its details."
 8. MICHAEL ANTHONY DUDLEY

Randy Clark, with a devilish grin, "sizes up" someone in the line.

"It's possible," says Michele Monger, "but I doubt it!"

1. MITCHELL TIMOTHY DUDLEY

2. MARY VIRGINIA DUNAWAY (GINNY): Mixed Chorus Pres., Concert Choir, JV and Varsity Basketball, Lettermen's Club, Powderpuff Football (Jr. Jockette, '76 Chick), Beta Club Treas., Spanish Club, Keyettes Historian-Reporter, SODA, Pep Club, Drama Club, JV Show, Prom, Sr. Play, Finals, YFOTG. "... what I do with this day is important because I have exchanged a day of my life for it. And when tomorrow comes today is gone forever, and I do hope I will not regret it."

3. DIANE PRISCILLA DURRETTE: Pep Club, Mixed Chorus 10 and 11, Library Assistant, FBLA. "You only cross this road once; so stay on this road until you reach the end and you'll never regret it because it's your reward."

4. DALE ROY EAST (PETE): "It takes less time to do a thing right, than to explain why you did it wrong."

5. MARGARET ANN ECKENRODE

6. DONNA YVONNE ELLINGER (DONNA DUCK): Clerk Typist II. "Ideas are like stars, You will not succeed in touching them with your hand; but like the seafaring man, you choose them as your guides, and following them, you reach your destination."

7. CYNTHIA LUCILLE ESTES (CINDY): DE II, Pep Club, Band, Pep Band.

"People are beautiful, if you can learn to cope with them. Just remember these human needs: some food, some work, some fun, someone."

8. GREGORY CHARLES EVANS: Varsity Football, Varsity Basketball, Key Club, Lettermen's Club, FCA, SODA, JV Show, Sr. Play. "The Lord is first, my friends are second, and I am third."

Annie Oakley, played by Missy McMullan, tells the audience in song that, "You can't get a man with a gun."

ANNIE GET YOUR GUN

This year's Senior Play, Annie Get Your Gun, proved to be an enjoyable time for all. With the lively Missy McMullan playing Annie, and the witty Jed TenHoeve portraying Frank, the seniors knew they had a hit on their hands. Rehearsals proved hectic, the dress rehearsal was confusing, but when the curtain opened, everything was forgotten and the show went on without a hitch.

"All I wanna be is rosy and dainty-like the kind ye said ye liked," says Annie to Frank.

1. ELLEN ANNE EWERS: Chorus 73-74, Jr. Class Council, Sr. Play. "Worry is like a rocking chair, it goes back and forth but gets you nowhere."

2. DANIEL MATHEWS FARRIS: "Some people go through this world saying that they wish they were dead, or wish they were never born. I say you better dig what you have now because you won't have it forever."

3. DONALD EDWARD FISHER: DECA I, II. "Thought alone is eternal."

4. MARTHA MAE FISHER

5. LAVERNE PANDORA FITCH (PENNY): "I'm so glad we only come this way once, so get it while you can."

6. CECIL FRANKLIN FITZGERALD

(WIREHEAD): Beta Club, VICA, FBLA, JV Show, Football Stat. "Be as the child, Live in harmony with body and soul, Live life in peace and tranquility, and ye shall know life."

7. DIANA SUSAN FITZGERALD: 10th grade Mixed Chorus, JV Show, '75 Spring Fever, Drama Club, Newspaper Club, Alternate Dupont Workshop, Business Symposium, One-act play (Murder of Lidice), '76 Spring Fling. "So much can be said by silence, but the fool never listens."

8. JEFFREY ALAN FITZGERALD (WOLFMAN): B Team Football, "Home is — wherever you are!"

FROM RAGS TO RICHES

From a field to fame and fortune, that's how Annie went. A quick, lively play, and the smooth, easy, and humorous manner of the actors kept the audience in stitches. From the first reading of the play until the final curtain, the seniors worked hard but enjoyed every minute.

"Ah please, Annie, tell us a story," beg Ann Fowler, Randy Clark, and Sylvia Downey.

1. ROSE LINDA FITZGERALD
2. DOUGLAS KENT FLORA (DOUG): Key Club — Pres., Drama Club, SODA, Football, JV Basketball, Varsity Tennis, JV Show, FCA, Sr. Play, Powderpuff cheerleader, Prom, Finals, Fall Foliage Festival, OOB, Tappa Kega Bru. "Any fool can criticize, condemn, and complain — and

most fools do."
3. MELISSA LYNN FLOYD
4. MICHAEL LEWIS FLOYD (MIKE): Three years Varsity Football, '74 State indoor track team, Lettermen's Club. "Never quit, cause a quitter will never win, try your hardest at everything you do."
5. VICKIE SUE FLOYD (VIC): Drama

Club I, II, Thespian Society, FBLA, Newspaper Staff, One-Act Plays '75, '76, Sr. Play, Spring Fever '75, '76. "Let light shine among those who are here for a moments unity, to carry on; with the blink of an eye, years have passed and everyone is gone . . . By the way . . . I'm nobody . . . who are you?"

6. SUZANNE ELLEN FOLEY: Soph. Class Council, Pep Club, SODA, Girl's Basketball, Jr. Class vice-pres., FHA, Sr. Class sec., Lettermen's Club, FCA, Powderpuff Football. "Nothing should be prized more highly than the value of each day."

Casting a look of approval, Mrs. Alice Flora carefully watches every move the actors make.

"Yea, you got eyes!" exclaims Annie.

As always, Greg Evans finds any excuse to eat.

1. KENT REGAN FOLSOM: PYE, JV Show, Drama Club, Key Club, Science Club, Marching Band, Pep Band, Concert Band, Stage Band, Powderpurr Cheerleader, NMSQT Commended Scholar, Sr. Play, Prom, Finals, OOB, Tappa Kegga Bru. "I live not in myself, but become portion of that around me; and to me, high mountains are a feeling, but the hum of human cities, torture." 2. LAURA ANN FOUNTAIN 3. ANN ELIZABETH FOWLER (ANNIE FANNY): WHS Band, Pep Club, Lettermen's Club, Beta Club, Science Club, Drama Club, Pres. of Thespian Club, Jr. Class Council, JV Show, Sr. Class Council, Sr. Play, One-Act Play all three years, Prom, Finals, Tennis Team, Powderpuff Football, Girls

State Representative. "Love me, myself, and not my circumstances, if we are to be real friends." 4. PATRICIA DIANE FRAZIER 5. DOUGLAS EUGENE FULK: Regional Band, Pep Band, Stage Band, Key Club, Golf, JV Show, One-Act Play, YFOTG. "Simplicity is everything, including simplicity." 6. KAREN SUE FURR: Mixed Chorus,

Beta Club, Distant Horizons, Keyettes — Pres., Girls State Representatives, JV Show, SVCA — Greece, Prom — food chairman, Sr. Class Council. "I can see how it might be possible for a man to look down upon the earth and be an atheist, but I cannot conceive how he could look up into the heavens and say there is no God."

1. GEORGE SLATER GAMBLE: Band, Beta Club, Lettermen's Club, Science Club, Spanish Club, Forensics, Track, Tennis. "So long Howie and Dewey and all you other 'dogs'!"

2. MARK TODD GENTZLINGER: JV Basketball, Varsity Tennis, Varsity Wrestling, JV Show, Sr. Play, Key Club. "Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed."

3. DOUGLAS EDWARD GILLETTE

(DOUG): Beta Club, Key Club, Varsity Tennis, JV Show, Prom, Finals, Sr. Play, Tappa Kegga Bru. "Don't walk in front of me — I may not follow. Don't walk behind me — I may not lead. Walk beside me — And just be my friend."

4. STERLING GRAY

5. MARTHA BLAIR GROVE (RUBY MAE): Soph. Class Council, Jr. Class Council, SODA, Mixed Chorus, JV and Varsity Girl's Basketball, Science

Club, Pep Club, JV Show, Prom, Finals. "Yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow only a vision: but today well-lived, makes every yesterday a dream and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

6. WILLIAM ERNEST GUNN (CUP-CAKE): Pres. of NHS, Beta Club, PYE, Science Club, Jr. Class Council, Sr. Class Council, Treas. of Lettermen's Club, 2nd Bass Concert Choir 74-76, JV Show, Keynote speaker State

Highway Safty Conference, Varsity Football Manager 74-76, Varsity Track Manager 74, Regional Chorus 75, Dupont Science Workshop, Prom, Mixed Chorus. "Do you know where you're going to? Do you like the things that life are showing you? Where are you going to? Do you know? Do you get what you're hoping for, when you look behind you there's no open door? What are you hoping for? Do you know?"

Kent Folsom doesn't seem too upset having make-up applied.

"You're going to what?" asks Randy Clark.

Adjusting Abby McChesney's hair, Mrs. Alice Flora also helps backstage.

1. DAVID MARK HALL (BUTCH): FCA, DECA — treas. "It is not in doing what you like, but in liking what you do, that is the secret of happiness."

2. KENNETH LEE HALL (KENNY): ICO, ICT I, II, Vica Club. "Live today as if it were the last, for tomorrow may never come."
3. MIKE HALPIN

4. JANICE SUE HAMMER: FHA, DECA, Library Assistant. "If at first you don't succeed try, try again."
5. KENNETH JAMES HANULA: "The day will come."

6. ANTHA GAIL HARLOW: Keyettes, Beta Club, Science Club, PYE — treas., Annual Staff, JV Show. "Every sound shall end in silence, but the silence never dies."

BACKSTAGE

Half the work and half the fun was backstage before the curtain opened. The check to see if everything is in place, a last review of lines, and the dressing and putting on of make-up. Co-directors Robert Hickman and Diane McCormick, along with help and guidance of Mrs. Alice Flora, saw to it that everything ran smoothly.

"All right, then — she can be my assistant — she can hand me things. Okay?" Asks Frank. "Yes, Mr. Butler," replies the awestruck Annie. "Good, let's go," answers the relieved Charlie Davenport.

A generous amount of make-up causes Bruce Taylor to smile.

WHO COULD ASK . . .

For Anything More? That's Miss Janet Knicely, some-one's who's always there, lending a hand, advising, or simply being a friend. She started helping the seniors at the beginning of the year and hasn't stopped since. "A ball of fire" — that's what we call her. She is full of life and on the go, even on a trip to King's Dominion and Busch Gardens. All we can say is, "Thanks, Miss Knicely," for being there and being a friend.

A group of seniors and Miss Janet Knicely react to a suggestion by Kenny Baker.

Even at the end of a busy day, Miss Janet Knicely manages a smile.

1. THOMAS MATTHEW HARMON
2. JOE HARRIS, JR.
3. GARY BRUCE HATFIELD: ICO, ICT,

16. PAUL MICHAEL KIVISTIK (MIKE): Debate Club, PYE, Drama Club, Science Club, Dupont Science Workshop, Beta Club, One-Act Play '75, French Club, SCA Senator '73. "The only way to get to the top is to be the best."

TIME TO KNOCK AROUND

Some activities for the Class of '76 included running the concession stand, dances, the senior trip to Busch Gardens and King's Dominion, Prom, and, of course, Finals. Perhaps the best activity is just being with each other. Most of the seniors have known each other for many years, and for many of them, it will be the last time they'll all be together for a long time. The senior year is perhaps the best year in the entire course of school. Now is the time to get together, work hard, have fun, and just knock around.

Before one of WHS' basketball games, Annette Snyder checks with Suzanne Foley and Helen Srickland to see how the seniors are doing with the concession stand.

"Nefarious" Mike Steele inspects the day's lunch.

SUPER SENIORS

Senior Superlatives are always fun, and this year was no exception. Ranging from most serious to class clown, different traits and personalities were brought out. The entire senior class voted on their fellow classmates, selecting who they felt was best under each category. From best athlete to best dressed, a wide range of the different talents of the members of the senior class.

20. DENNIS LEE MORRIS

The one you care for and "A Little Night Music."

BENEATH THE STARS

This year the Class of '77 gave the Class of '76 a wonderful present; "A Little Night Music." This year's prom was decorated in silver and blue, accompanied by a bubbling fountain. For one night, the WHS gym was transformed into a nightclub and the lobby became a park, complete with flowers and birds. Thank you, juniors, for your gift of "A Little Night Music."

Dancing the first dance with her father, Cheryl Augustin holds on tight to Mr. Ivan Augustin.

Stepping through Ring Figure are Sandy Allen and her father.

Before lining up for Ring Figure, some seniors take time to joke around with dates and friends.

PARADISE . . .

A warm night, streamers, flowers, a waterwheel, a picket fence, music, and friends; put these all together and you have Finals '76. "Paradise Lost proved to be challenging, yet an enjoyable occasion for the seniors. A week of decorating, headed by Cheryl Augustin and Sandy Allen, plus the setting of lights, done by Greg Bradley and John VanPatten, all came together under a canopy of blue and lavender. The work was hard, but the rewards were sweet — a night to be remembers by the Class of '76.

These seniors and their escorts wait for another classmate to join them.

15. VICKIE LYNN POTTER: Pep Club, FHA, DECA. "Love is . . . loving the one you love, who loves being loved by you."

16. TIMOTHY RAY QUICK

. . . LOST

Finals this year was called "Paradise Lost," but perhaps it should have been called "Paradise Gained." On June 9, 1976, the WHS gym became a paradise for the seniors, their dates, and their parents. With an over-all "country garden" theme, the seniors danced under a "sky" of blue and lavender, put up by Bruce Wilson, complete with hanging baskets of brightly colored flowers. The lobby even became a garden with flowers, trees and even goldfish. A great deal of work was put into creating "Paradise Lost."

Holding his mother close, Mark Gentzlinger ponders another dance.

"Just on time," says Warner Sandquist to Diane Barksdale.

1. KIRK RANDLOPH QUILLEN: Varsity Football; Varsity Basketball; Track; Key Club; Stage Crew; JV Show. "Make the best use of what is in your power, and take the rest as it happens."

8. DARRELL LEE SIRON: Beta Club. "To the Class of '76; Good luck after your Senior year."

PRISON

"We sometimes put ourselves into prisons of the spirit," Dr. Gurney P. Whiteley told the seniors at the Baccalaureate Service. He urged the seniors to beware of making their own prisons and that the only true prisons are ourselves. Suzanne Foley read the scripture verse and Jordan Schlick led a prayer. Soloist Diane Barksdale sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The class of '76 listens carefully to Dr. Whiteley.

1. FORREST TEMPLETON SMITH

LAST MINUTE DETAILS

After twelve long years of work, the last nine months seem to have been the longest and the hardest. The senior year had the most to offer but, at the same time, the most to give. The year at end, but still a lot happening. The last few minutes before graduation are the most hectic. Last minute checks on gowns, making sure caps are on straight and that the tassels are to the left, last minute hugs with close friends, and an over-all whisper of "good luck."

Before lining up for graduation, Janey Collier and Michele Monger receive good wishes from friends.

TELL IT LIKE IT IS

This year, the senior class knew exactly who they wanted as their Commencement speaker, Mr. Michael G. Hamp. Mr. Hamp, a popular twelve-year faculty member and presently director of student services, told the seniors that "Adjustment, not the successful solving of every problem we face, is the key to happiness." He made references to novelist Joseph Conrad, poet Robert Frost, former WHS football coach Robert Novak, and rock artist Elton John, all people that the seniors could relate to.

DREAMS

"If you try hard enough, you can make all of your dreams come true," urged class Valedictorian Mary Ann Krog. She stressed that we should dream of our future now and not wait until time runs out. The senior class was a class of firsts and dreams they had were fulfilled: the first to hold their JV Show in the gym, the first to present their Senior Play in the new auditorium, and the class to graduate in the Bicentennial year. The Class of '76 was a special class, a close class, and to all the up-coming seniors — best of luck.

CLASS LEADERSHIP

The junior year is often one of the best of a student's high school years. The Class of '77 was guided through this memorable year by the decisions of the Class Council and the leadership of Class President Joan Ritchie. Also very important in the class activities, were Nan Rexrode, vice-president; Diane Wood, secretary; and Teresa Lovegrove, treasurer. Without the class officers and various committee chairmen, the efficiency of the class meetings and projects would have been greatly diminished. The Class of '77 thanks its council and officers for all their hard work.

One thing that every class needs is support. The Junior Class was very fortunate in having Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Guthrie as their class sponsors. Without the generously given help, time, and guidance of these two well-liked teachers, the Junior Class would never have successfully accomplished many of the class projects. The class is honored that Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Guthrie found it fit to remain class sponsors through the Class of '77's Junior Year. It is to these two fantastic sponsors that the Junior section of Skyline '76 is dedicated. Also behind the class, was Benno Weber, the foreign exchange student from Germany. Benno attended many of the Junior Variety Show rehearsals and is a conscientious, hardworking student who would make any class proud. The Junior Class realizes the value of student and faculty support and is greatly indebted to those who stood behind the Class of '77.

JUNIOR JAMBOREE

Our days were spent doing much more than school work at WHS. Juniors could be seen loafing around in the halls, working earnestly for a successful J.V. Show, striving for greater personal standards, or just plain goofing off. Small pleasures such as a few quiet moments alone, or an "A" on a test helped fill the long days of school; and at the end of the day, it was nice to look back and think that perhaps after all, it was worthwhile.

JUNIOR WHOPPERS

The phrase, "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game," was epitomized in the Powderpuff Football Game between the '76 Chicks and the Junior Whoppers. Playing through rain, sliding in mud, and obtaining numerous blows and bruises, the Junior girls tried their best to spur each other in their goal for victory. This brave attempt ended in defeat, but victory came in various other areas of school events and in the production of a memorable J-V Show. In all of these activities, the Class of '77 strove to make an indelible imprint upon the memory of WHS.

Smiling enthusiastically, Dodie Beverage and Dirk Neidentohol proudly represent their class in the Homecoming Court.

A SHOW TO REMEMBER

This year's Juniors turned a wide variety of ideas into the fantastic show "2077: A Space Oddity." The record crowd was entertained by Mary Milk and her vegetables, "Good Times," Dick Clark and American Bandstand, a typical classroom, a magic act, and various other talent presentations. "The Times of Your Life," the song for the finale, best expresses the thoughts of everyone who participated. Everyone will remember someone or some part of the Class of 77's J.V. # CLASS COUNCIL

In past years it has often been said "Don't worry, those are only sophomores and are of no importance." But no more, this years sophomore class has proved this belief fiction. This saying is nothing more than an upper classman's jealousy, longing for his sophomore years, so he can start his high school joys and careers all over again. Under the exceptional guidance of Mrs. Kathy Hosmanek and Mr. Howard Clayborne the class of '78 has built a fine base to grow and flourish on for the coming years.

The sophomores have been in the capable hands of Tracy Bare — president, Debbie Mooney — secretary, Nancy Stoner — assistant secretary, Carrie Krog — treasurer, Judy Gyorko — parliamentarian, and absent from the picture David Mawyer — vice-president.

HARD SOPH. SPIRIT

I was here when they laid the first corner stone of the High School. Each class, each person, has expressed their feeling for me. Whether it be spoken by their time and effort, or quietly felt by oneself, they have all felt it. Who am I, I am spirit. I've felt your feelings for me when the football team wins by a last second touchdown. When the basketball team wins by a point made as the buzzer sounds. Or as the track team wins their last meet.

One of the few required courses that all sophomores must take is Physical Education. Sophomores enjoy many varieties of sports such as football, tennis, gymnastics, and basketball. At the beginning of every school year students have an opportunity to join a variety of clubs. These clubs help to broaden the student's abilities and it also gives them a chance to meet new people with the same interest.

Becoming wildly enthused over the Drama Club meeting, Nancy Stoner wonders just how long the meeting will last.

REMEMBER about our

Sunday morning get-together at Church!
The year of 75-76 has been very rewarding for sophomores. It has given them a chance to prove themselves to the world. Many students have had experiences that they will remember for the rest of their lives. While members of the class of 1978 look forward to becoming juniors their sophomore year will always be remembered for it's good times. forget ya'll

Sporting a beard, Mr. Tom Muncy takes care of the ever-present deluge of phone calls.

Displaying his oratorical talent, Mr. Muncy dazzles a class with his explanation of Karate.

ADMINISTRATION GIVES SUPPORT

Placed into the hands of a few is the welfare of hundreds of students and the responsibility for maintaining the high standards of education in Waynesboro High School. The leaders of this educational and disciplinary force within the school are: Thomas Muncy, Principal; Ronald Knicely, Assistant Principal; Michael Hamp, Director of Student Services, and Richard Lotts, Director of Student Activities. The support and guidance given by these dedicated men is greatly appreciated by all.

Combining business with pleasure, Mr. Muncy takes in the sights during a basketball game.

Confronted with a student's inquiry about the new assembly schedule, Mr. Ron Knicely handles the matter with his usual ability and finesse.

Conducting an assembly in the makeshift auditorium-gymnasium, Mr. Knicely is in complete control of the chaotic situation.

With an impish grin and a bewhiskered chin, Mr. Mike Hamp finds a student's confusing prospects for college highly amusing.

As is his daily task, Mr. Richard Lotts handles the job of arranging the usual stack of morning announcements.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

Bringing an air of cheerfulness and friendliness to the main office, the secretaries are more than just an efficient working force. Taking orders for graduation announcements, checking admittance slips and generally keeping the high school away from chaos, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Hawpe, Mrs. Bateman, and Mrs. Long contribute greatly to the effective management of the high school. Not only do the secretaries provide the school with necessary forms and applications, but also provide the faculty and student body with essential assistance during the school year.

Dispersing the idea that the main office is only a serious and business-like establishment, Mrs. Polly Hawpe is caught "goofing off" during hours.

Mrs. Blanche Long responds jokingly to one of the many unusual questions asked of the secretaries.

Starting the day with one of the necessary school processes, Mrs. Helen Bateman goes through numerous excuses and admittance slips.

Amid the confusion in the main office, Mrs. Mary Frances Burnett answers the persistently ringing telephone.

OPEN DOORS

Through each person's high school days the Guidance Department aids in finding the right path for each to follow. Opening the doors to one of the most enlightening parts of a student's life, the Guidance Department shows each individual a new dimension either to education or a job opportunity. Swimming through numerous college handbooks, student registration forms, and the usual accumulation of problems in the day to day world, the counselors strive to make the students' school program more enriching and productive.

Mr. Frank Placko stares disbelievingly at a sophomore's confusion over his schedule.

Searching for a college handbook for a desperate junior, Mrs. Polly Broyles is again reminded of the work involved in being in the Guidance Department.

Smiling at a senior's belated college application, Mrs. Chris Edwards hopes the "Spirit of '76" will remain with the graduating class.

As the junior counselor, Mr. Ben Woodson is confronted with many strange ideas about what a senior registration form should look like.

ENLIGHTENMENT

Appealing to the intellectual curiosity of the students, the English Department brought such famous names as Keats, Thoreau, and London into comprehensive and applicable use. Struggling along with their students in their achievement of comma rules, spelling mastery, and correctly written compositions, the teachers made every effort to ignite the flame of interest in each and every student. Proof of the effectiveness of their teaching or "the means in their madness" came this year with the superb accomplishment of the Forensic team. Placing first in the District, the team received a silver loving cup and many congratulations along with their own feeling of pride.

Mrs. Olive Forbes is amused at her students' attempts to study before a dictionary test.

Mrs. Carolyn Lilly flashes a smile at her class' efforts in diagraming sentences.

Mrs. Marion Ward takes a leisurely break in the English Office from her active day.

Exasperated by an incomprehensible interpretation of Walden, Mr. Duane Hahn wishes his students would read the text more carefully.

Catching a glimpse of some cutting up, Mrs. Janet Drayer gives a warning but fun-loving glance.

Smiling at his class' attempts to get out of homework, Mr. Milnes Austin prepares to dictate the assignment.

Chairman of the department, Mr. Andy Shifflett, enjoys the jokes of his students.

Explaining the intricate workings of an old car, Mr. John Brown's face lights up with pleasure.

Caught in a moment of quiet thought, Mr. Jim Pitman reflects upon the previous class' antics.

ISSUE ORIENTED

In this election year, the Social Studies Department endeavored to make history and government students more aware of the issues surrounding political elections. Opening new dimensions to common-place things, the teachers equipped their students with the ability to grasp the sometimes confusing operation of the government. Using such teaching aids as maps, films, and pamphlets, the instructors utilized the textual material in such a way as to appeal to most of their students. Reaching into the core of the American way of life, the department brought a new understanding to the complexities of industrialism, capitalism, and the workings of government.

Kindred spirits in the classroom, Mr. Mike Pace and Barney, share a joke with the amazed class.

Mr. Haskins Coleman tries to explain the workings of the United States government.

Miss Patricia Bell sympathetically answers another question about tax forms for a totally confused student.

Turning her back momentarily on Robert Redford, Mrs. Ruth Porter humorously answers an inquiring pupil's questions.

Explaining the conjugation of a new French verb, Mr. Nat Forbes correctly pronounces what his students have just mumbled.

FOREIGN GLIMPSES

The Foreign Language Department headed by Mr. Nat Forbes, has had a plus added to its program this year with the addition of the new school wing. The specially designed rooms have enabled the foreign language students to concentrate on their studies more readily. This also gives the instructors better teaching facilities. As difficult as it may seem to give students a realistic picture of what foreign countries are all about, our language teachers endeavor to give the student a glimpse of life in the Old World.

Mrs. Kathie Hosmanek is amused as her student's suggestion of having a genuine witch doctor demonstrate the use of the culture mask.

Caught in a moment of deliberation, Mrs. Doris Snyder tries to decide if the students could possibly be correct in their outrageously pronounced Latin terminology.

Mrs. Peggy Browning renders her services in aiding a desperate underclassman locate a needed book.

Miss Elizabeth Shackelford takes a moment from her busy work in the library to answer a question for a studious individual.

Laughingly warning her students to get to work, Mrs. Kraus finds the outside view more interesting than the reading rate machines.

Amused by a spontaneous answer from one of her students, Mrs. Harriet Aylor smiles in appreciation.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Providing the school with an abundant resource of reading material, the library is also a place for relaxation and last minute study. Filled with magazines, reference books, college handbooks and general subject books, the library provides the student with much information needed during the school year.

The reading program offered on an individual basis enables the student to develop his reading and comprehensive skills to a degree not always attained by oneself. The encouragement and guidance of Mrs. Connie Kraus often gives more incentive to the interested student in excelling in whichever skill is being mastered.

Mrs. Harriet Aylor is also a great asset to the support teacher program. Mrs. Aylor is available to students utilizing reinforcement activities in certain skills.

Mentally counting out the rhythm of a newly acquired piece of music Mr. Roger Zimmerman leads his music students through their sight reading.

Between classes Mr. Bernadine Cochrane prepares herself for the task of keeping order in the music room.

Mr. "Z" prepares to nail another rambunctious student while rehearsing new music.

Trying to get the band in the mood of the music, Mr. Pete Phillips generates his own feeling of excitement.

MORE ROOM FOR TALENT

Contributing much time and effort to the community, the W.H.S. Music Department is considered a major section of the high school. As shown during the Louis Spilman Auditorium dedication services, the music students play an important part in civic affairs as well as personal fund-raising activities. With the addition of space to the auditorium and more comfortable arrangements within the music department, the directors and their students hope to bring more pleasurable meetings between the citizens and the department.

INNER EXPRESSIONS

Moving into the new wing of the school, the Art Department benefitted in many ways by obtaining new enlarged facilities. Helping to activate more imaginative and productive minds, the instructors aid the students in expressing their ideas in all different types of media. The department's students won numerous prizes for their work throughout the year, adding to the belief that the right kind of instructor can be a great help in reaching one's goals.

Mrs. Austin explains the intricacies of drawing during one of her art classes.

Impressed with the artistic attempts of her students, Mrs. Bunnie Austin smiles with approval.

Miss Lynn Hilton shows her enthusiastic pupils the possibilities of working with photographic elements.

Totally at a loss without his "swinging" straightedge, Mr. Conrad Guthrie attempts to anchor a firm understanding of plane geometry in his student's heads.

Miss Janet Knicely takes a rare and well-deserved break from the rigorous hour in her advanced algebra class.

In total disbelief of the antics in his algebra class, Mr. Earl Hamilton is on the verge of threatening them with "salt peter."

Fighting a losing battle to hide her amusement, Mrs. Virginia Tucker prepares to continue her lesson after her overly energetic students have interrupted her.

Miss Sarah Bruce, a new addition to the Math Department, gives additional help to a mathematically confused student.

Attempting to take roll in her Algebra II class, Mrs. Margery Pidcock puts her seating chart away and relies on the trusty grade book.

Submitting to the uncontrollable urge to join in the gait in her basic mathematics class, Miss Marcella Crider breaks into a smile.

Miss Elizabeth Hoadley awaits another student in need of mathematical assistance as the Math Department's support teacher.

PRECISION AND QUALITY

Although the beginning of the year was full of hustling about in the Math Department, the instructors still retained their composure and sanity throughout the move to the third floor. The addition of a new support teacher greatly enhanced the precision and outstanding quality of the department and the new paint in the old rooms at the end of the year gave a refreshing feeling to the fast-wilting instructors and students.

SCIENCE ENCOUNTERS NEW FACILITIES

The Science Department tries to endow the student with a greater understanding of the environment and the elements that surround him. Although much of the equipment that is found in the Science Department was unable to be used during the greater part of the year, the move of the department into the new wing gave more needed room for labs and the large number of students in the classes. The Science Department was also allocated a new greenhouse on the roof of the new wing.

Even though the department was plagued by many inconveniences, such as misplaced chemicals, nonworking and uninstalled equipment, the department maintained its usual standard of educational quality.

Gazing intently at a test tube, Mr. Bill Corwin is totally entranced by the prospect of finding tiny microorganisms growing in the medium.

Miss Marcella Crider enjoys a student's comical, verbal addition to her basically serious physics class.

Double checking her calculations, Annette Snyder pauses momentarily to smile for the camera.

Mrs. Connie Fletcher makes full use of the high school's greenhouse by utilizing the controlled environment for growing helpful plants.

Caught in a moment of joviality, this scholarly chemistry class is faced with another factor in the course.

*Yippies!

David A. Schunk*

Relaxing momentarily in the silence of the library, Mrs. Nancy Swisher escapes from the clicking of typewriting keys.

Miss Carol Critzer listens to a typing student's reply to a spacing problem.

BUSINESS BENEFITS

From term papers to college applications, the skill of typing is a great aid in many practical aspects of life. The Business Department expresses this same idea and others related to it in the way in which the teachers impress skills upon the students. Although basic technique and accuracy are major parts of the business classes, the application of such skills in everyday life is equally emphasized. Benefits gained by taking a business course, whether typing, shorthand or another field offered, can be enumerated by any student who has been a part of one of the classes.

Business Department chairman, Mr. John Gilbert, enjoys an amusing answer to a general business question.

Mrs. Audra Brodowicz takes roll as her students enjoy the few free minutes before class.

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

The Louis Spilman Auditorium named after the originator of Distributive Education stands as a reminder of the importance of on-the-job training. Showing the relationship of the consumer and business within the economy, the D.E. program brings into perspective the flow of the nations' currency and jobs in the world market.

Revealing a smile hiding behind his mustache, Mr. Don Morris anticipates the days' work ahead of him.

Questioning a student's tardiness, Mrs. Evelyn Kiser delays taking the roll.

Noting a late arrival's entrance, Mr. Bob Novak inquires as to the reason for the delay.

TRAINING FOR INDUSTRY

The Industrial Cooperative Training Program offered at the high school is geared to meet the needs of students planning to obtain jobs in industry following graduation. Relocated in the former main office, I.C.T. offers important job-training skills as an alternative to a college education.

Mr. Charles Hastings is the epitome of sheer exhaustion at the end of a long day.

Miss B.J. Harding is caught by the camera repairing a student's jacket.

SPIC AND SPAN

Ranging in topics from bachelor living to sewing a dress, the Home Economics Department strives to make the individual more aware and experienced in the process involved in running a home unit. Popularity in taking the home ec. courses stems from the extensive involvement of teacher and student. Such things as cooking, sewing and general house keeping are only a few of the appealing courses offered when the student takes home ec.

Instructing her home economics class in cooking, Mrs. Faye Huffer demonstrates her own technique of adding a pinch of this and that.

HANDY WORK

Enabling the student to manipulate both machinery and mechanical drawing instruments, the Industrial Arts program is offered to both male and female. Producing self made metal work, wood work, leather crafts and other such projects, the student works primarily on an individual basis. Supervised by experienced and cautious instructors, the Industrial Arts program is becoming increasingly popular.

Mr. Lewis Gurkin tells a struggling mechanical drawing student to go "back to the drawing board."

Observing the technique of his students' use of the circular saw, Mr. Quentin Pidcock is glad that they are putting their safety rules into practice.

SKILL AND SAFETY

Facing great physical risks either in taking nervous driver's on the open road or in shaping up "out of shape" sophomores, the Physical Education Department helps the W.H.S. student become a productive individual. Including classroom education as well as on-the-road training, the driver's education course offered at the high school attempts to make each new driver more aware of the responsibilities involved with the operation of a motor vehicle. Along with the responsibility of making students conscious of driving and athletic skills, the members of the school's athletic teams were coached by this talented group of teachers.

Carrying out one of the more inactive sections of the Physical Education program, Mr. Dick Moyer presides over a classroom of driver's ed. students.

Sitting on the sidelines, Mr. Richard Lotts seems totally involved with one of the many basketball games played on the home court.

Demonstrating the proper technique in returning a volleyball, Miss Sue Burkholder joins the game.

Mr. Jack Toms is speculative over the prospect of taking another inexperienced driver into the flow of traffic.

Never satisfied with being inactive, Mr. Merv Wooton tests his might in the weight room.

Mr. Bill League scans the room for squeamish students after the showing of another driver's education film.

JUGGLING ACT

Despite tough job competition this year, Job Placement Director Mr. Bill Blosser was still instrumental in obtaining part-time jobs for many W.H.S. students. Juggling students' schedules and available working hours, the Job Placement Center enabled students to participate in the world of work.

Although busy with forms, job applications, and the regular load of paper work, Mrs. Jane Bishop takes a moment to answer a question for a job seeking individual.

Mr. Bill Blosser once again begins the task of uncovering a job for a student.

Mr. Lynwood Mitchell relaxes during a lag in the long and hectic day.

THE BASIC NECESSITIES

The dedicated staff of custodians and cafeteria personnel is a force in the high school which is undeniably necessary. Greatly appreciated by all, the staff has long been known as a very important and functional unit.

SPEED, STRENGTH, AND ENDURANCE

The Cross Country team, in it's fourth year at W.H.S., completed a successful season. With such outstanding victories as those over Lexington, Turner Ashby, Harrisonburg, and Nelson County, the Little Giant thinclads compiled a 5-4 overall record. With standouts such as Joe Archambeault, who finished fourth in the district and first on the team, and Bruce Wilson, who finished fifteenth in the district and second on the team, coach Jack Toms was pleased with this year's team.

Running in the rain, Joe Archambeault and Dirk Niedentohl give some wear and tear to the Ridgeview Park grass.

In search of the elusive Cross Country letter, Bruce Hoffman and Joey Hall add another winning race to their records.

Avoiding the waterstricken path, Bruce Hoffman glides to the "white line."

Cross Country Schedule 1975-1976

- Sept. 13 - Judge's Classic, Winchester
- 19 - Stuarts Draft — Wilson
- 22 - Amherst
- 24 - Lexington
- 27 - Lee, Turner Ashby, Handley
- Oct. 1 - Turner Ashby
- 4 - William & Mary International
- 8 - Broadway
- 13 - Nelson County
- 15 - Robert E. Lee
- 20 - Harrisonburg
- 23 - District Meet

Being chased from behind, Joey Hall puts a "final effort push" to achieve his goal, the finish line.

At the District Meet, Joey Archambeault relaxes while he can.

Pinning on his number for Identification, Van Anderson heads for the starting line.

District Meet Participants: Joey Hall, Bruce Wilson, Joey Archambeault, David Frazier, Van Anderson, Bruce Hoffman, and Dirk Niedentohl.

STRIVING FOR A GOAL

The Little Giants were hard workers this year proven by the success of their favorite play, the Option. With ten returning lettermen and fifteen returning seniors, the Little Giants compiled a 4-6 record. The team handled the ball well under the direction of Coach Jim Pitman and his assistants George Buzzard, Bill League, and Mike Pace. Standouts such as quarterback Ricky Roberts and running back Mike Floyd led the team through the season but were unable to play the last two games due to injuries. The team and school would like to extend it's appreciation to Jim Pitman for his contribution to W.H.S. and wishes him well in his new government job.

"I don't want it," may have been what was on David McDow's mind as he received another kickoff.

POTENTIALS FOR POWER

Under the leadership of the new Junior Varsity coach, Albert Wooten, the Baby Giants compiled a 2-4 record. A great job was done by the line and specialty teams. The experience gained will be a true asset to W.H.S. in the next few years. We are all looking forward to seeing these J-V's as Varsity team members next year.

We commend coach Albert Wooten for his fine coaching of the Junior-Varsity squad.

LITTLE GIANTS TIE FOR FIRST

The 1975-76 basketball campaign was a great success for Coach Milnes Austin and the Little G's. Employing the strategy of playing some tough triple-A teams early in the season to improve the readiness of the young WHS squad, the team went on to post a fine 7-3 Valley District record — good enough for a share of first place with Turner Ashby and Lee high. Against all opponents, Waynesboro was 13-7.

As in the case of many co-favorites in tourney play, the WHS contingent lost a heartbreaker to Harrisonburg in the Valley District Tournament. Waynesboro, thus, closed out the year a little disappointed but with a fine record of 13-8.

Soaring over his opponents, Kenny Belton puts up a long jump-shot.

1975-76 Varsity Basketball Squad: FRONT ROW, L to R: Sean Shull, Ricky Roberts, Tori Campbell, Kinny Shifflett, Charles Blair. SECOND ROW, L to R: Tim Stinespring and Tony Wagner (Managers), Nat Nicholas, Johnny Doyle, Dirk Niedentohl, Billy Foote, Assistant Coach Mike Pace. BACK ROW, L to R: Bobby Killian (Manager), Chris Holcomb, David Eaves, Bill Maki, Kenny Belton, Kevin Coyner, John Mallory, Coach Milnes Austin.

Nat Nicholas demonstrates his shot-blocking skill as Kenny Belton gets in position for the rebound.

Chris Holcomb wins the jump against a Stuarts Draft Cougar.

While a startled opponent looks helplessly on, Johnny Doyle hoists a shot toward the basket.

Ricky Roberts scores a driving layup ahead of the pack.

Determined Kenny Belton refuses to yield a hard-fought rebound.

To his opponent's surprise, John Mallory tries to steal a rebound.

With intense concentration, Kenny Belton studies a new play in a tough practice session.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Austin, Johnny Doyle carries out the assigned play.

Selected as the most valuable player on the Little Giant squad, Kinny Shifflett demonstrates his ball-handling ability.

HARD WORK SHARPENS SKILLS

While the Little Giants Basketball Team enjoyed a victorious season, this success was hard-earned. The offensive patterns, the defensive strategy, and the individual skills were products of good coaching and hard work in practice as well as during the heat of action. Although next year's team will have a new head mentor, Coach Austin's efforts should be a big plus for future roundball success at Waynesboro High.

1975-76 Junior Varsity Basketball Team: FRONT ROW, L to R: Pee Wee Miller, Mike John, Rodney Anderson, Tracy Bare, Jimmy Farrar, Tim Stinespring (Manager). BACK ROW, L to R: Jeff McCormick, Kent Layne, Steve Custard, Dean Earman, David Balser, Coach Dick Moyer.

With perfect form, Steve Custard puts up a free throw.

Attesting to his leaping ability, Dean Earman wins the center jump.

Cool under defensive pressure, Jimmy Farrar looks for someone to pass to.

Tracy Bare dribbles on the perimeter looking for the open man underneath.

As two opponents converge on him, Pee Wee Miller gets ready to dish off the ball.

TRANSITORY TEAM

For the first year in quite sometime, the WHS Junior Varsity Basketball Team did not enjoy a successful season. The Baby Gaints won only four of twenty contests. However, this year's J.V.'s saw the shuttling around of many of their players — some up to the Varsity squad. Thus, it was difficult keeping the same five starters on the floor throughout the season. In terms of building for the future, Coach Dick Moyer should be proud of his and the players' accomplishments.

Coach Sue Burkholder — the main force behind girls' athletics at WHS.

STEADY PROGRESS

Going from a 1-14 record last year to 6-9 this year, the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team made great progress. This record is even better when you consider that many of the losses came against teams such as Turner Ashby, Broadway, and Lee High — all of whom have had well-established programs for years. Also playing some good roundball was the J.V. squad who finished the season with a record of 6-8. As far as individual performers this year in girls' basketball, the award for top player went to Sherri Johnson.

In only their second year, the Girls' Softball Team had a disappointing record of 1-9, but they added a lot of excitement to the spring sports program at WHS. In the formative years now, many signs point to future success in softball.

WRESTLING FOR THE FUTURE

Although this year's Wrestling Team posted a dismal record of 1-10, the future of this sport at WHS looks bright indeed. Most of Waynesboro's opponents have had wrestling programs for years, while the WHS grapplers are in only their second year of competition. It takes time to build any athletic program, especially a sport that is not one of the glory high school games with great fan interest and support such as basketball or football. However, with a squad of many young wrestlers and interest picking up, Waynesboro High hopes to improve upon its record in the years to come.

THINCLADS ARE THIRD AND NINTH

How do you match a State Championship of the previous year? The 1975-76 Indoor Track Team found it hard to duplicate this feat as the WHS thinclads finished third in the Valley District Meet and placed ninth in the State. This marked the first time in four years that the Little Giants did not take top district honors, and while this and ninth in the State was not as good as last year's record, Waynesboro still has to be proud indeed. After all, finishing number nine among all of the schools in State Group II is a worthy record in itself.

The architect of Waynesboro's successful track program — Coach Jack Toms.

Getting some "outside" practice in the nippy winter weather is pole vault standout Neil Freeman.

WHS's top sprinter in indoor track — Danny McVey.

Mike Eaves deftly takes the baton from Charles Blair in a relay race.

John Truslow crosses the finish line first as teammate Tori Campbell battles an opponent for second place.

TRACK RECORD CONTINUES

Although the 1976 Outdoor Track Team was not as successful as last year's contingent, Coach Jack Toms and the WHS squad could indeed be proud of their accomplishments. In district meets Waynesboro was 3-2 with an overall 7-3 record. The team placed third in the District Meet, sixth in the Regionals, and ninth in the State — not bad considering the quantity and quality of the competition. Outstanding individual performers this year were: Mike Eaves in the 440 and high jump, Jeff Harris in the sprints, John Truslow in the distance events, and Neil Freeman in the pole vault. In the State Meet, Freeman won first place and set a new state record clearing 13'8½".

Danny McVey and Jeff Harris finish one-two in the 100-yard dash.

VOLLEY'S FOR VICTORIES

As in past years, the WHS Tennis Teams demonstrated the skills that have put them on top every year. Leading the men were Jordan Schlick and Tommy Shields, who both played excellently year-round. The men lost their bid for regional competition when they were defeated by arch-rival Harrisonburg.

In retaliation on Harrisonburg, the women's team won the valley regional and state titles. The girl's were led by top four — Pam Pope, Annette Snyder, Mary Ann Krog, and Robin Humphrey. These girl's along with the rest of the team, won many difficult singles and doubles matches. Both the men and the women's teams carried on the WHS reputation of fine athletes to the top.

In heavy competition, Robin Humphrey puts in an all out effort for every point.

BELOW PAR

Considering Waynesboro's past glory in golf, the 1975-76 season was somewhat of a disappointment as the team finished with an 0-6 Valley District mark and posted an overall record of 3-8. The WHS linksters did, however, finish fourth in the District Tournament. In this contest our top two golfers, Kenny Baker and Paul Hartnett, narrowly missed advancing to the Regional Tournament.

First-year Coach Merv Wooten gives some tips on club selection to Scott Wilson and Timmy Baker.

Paul Hartnett demonstrates the form that made him one of the team's top linksters.

Tony Bare wins the race to the bag for a put-out of a Wilson Green Hornet.

Greg Williams scores Waynesboro's lone run in a home loss to tough Turner Ashby.

DIAMOND STARS FAIL FORECAST

Most baseball experts predicted that 1976 could be "the" year for the WHS Baseball Team. With a wealth of talent returning from last year's squad and perennial state champ Turner Ashby seemingly less potent, Coach Dick Moyer had high hopes for a long-awaited district diamond title. The championship did not materialize, however, as the team posted a district record of 4-6 and 9-8 overall. This placed Waynesboro in the middle of the heap in the district race with T.A. champs again. Some glory was regained, though, as Bo Wiseman, Kinny Shiflett, Ricky Roberts, Scott Roberts, and Scott McClamroch made the all-district team while Randy Clark received honorable mention.

A BINDING FORCE

During a touchdown, a foul shot, or sometimes even at the track meets and baseball games, there is always one binding force leading the crowd — the WHS Cheerleaders. Guiding the spectators through victory and comforting them during defeat, these girls have done a great job. From practices every day after school, to cheerleading camp, to pep rallies, and finally to the game, these cheerleaders carry well the good reputation of WHS.

CLUBS

Dear Bishop,

You're the ~~first~~ first one to ask me to sign a yearbook.
Well a lot of things happened in 75-76. I remember when I first moved here. Carl was the first friend I made. I felt so weird in that C.C.D. class that day. Remember that night of the sweetheart dance? That was wild. You and your family are my closest friends and when I become a multimillionaire?
I will never forget you. I hope good luck follows you all through your life. Stay as sweet as you've always been.

STAFF STRIVES TO MAKE TIME

Layout paper, croppers, copy sheets, photo envelopes . . . These words may sound strange to the average person but not to the members of the Skyline Yearbook Staff. These items are the beginning and the ending of a yearbook and are a part of the everyday work of the staff. Striving through many perils such as lost pictures, broken picture croppers, and late deadlines, the yearbook staff, under the leadership of editor Bruce Taylor, advisor Andrew Shifflett, and a special assist from senior editor Janey Collier, managed to pull everything together and produce SKYLINE '76.

MUSICAL EXCELLENCE

This year the Concert Band showed its versatility by performing in the Fall Foliage Festival and Christmas parades. The members displayed their musical excellence at the annual Spring Concert and thrilled the audience with varied selections.

One of the new things the WHS Pep Band did this year was to play at several of the school's basketball games. They also provided half-time entertainment for the special benefit Yugoslavian basketball game.

AN APPROPRIATE NOTE

Football games at Waynesboro High School wouldn't be the same without the W.H.S. Band playing their hearts out. At half-time the band displays an unusual talent through their marching formations. This year's drum major, Carl Scott, added a little spice to the show through his "Showy" steps while leading the band. The wonderful performances by the band brought the crowd to its feet, and a feeling of exhilaration to the soul.

Practicing together, the majorettes and the band go through the steps of a Friday-night football game.

ADDED ATTRACTION

Highlighting every performance of the band, the W.H.S. Majorettes twirled their way through many splendid half-time shows. Enduring the fluctuating weather, they put in many hours of practice for their varied activities. This practice helped those that went to majorette camp win several awards.

CONCERT CHOIR '76

As usual, the Concert Choir displayed an unusual amount of talent this year. Allegedly a rebuilding year, the choir proved its excellence by placing twenty-three members in the Regional Chorus, and by taking an unprecedented eleven of the twenty places offered this district in the All-Virginia Chorus. Besides giving concerts at other high schools and civic organizations, the choir also participated in a dedication service for the new Louis Spilman Auditorium.

TALENT UNLIMITED

Concert Choir, a group of multi-talented young people, was involved in many activities this year. As part of the Fall Foliage Festival, a city-wide historical pageant was held, and Concert Choir members participated in many ways. The choir as a whole sang, some had reading parts, and others danced. Also for the first time, the Concert Choir gave a variety show entitled "Bewitched" in the fall plus their annual spring show which this year was called "Magic To Do." Both shows proved a tremendous success and helped supply the choir with needed funds for their trip to New York in the spring.

MANY MAGIC MELODIES

Helping to display the great musical talents that Waynesboro High possesses, two other choirs contributed greatly — the 10th Grade Chorus directed by Mrs. Bernadine Cochrane and the 11th-12th Grade Chorus under the tutelage of Mr. Roger Zimmerman. The annual Christmas and Spring Concerts were great opportunities for both of these fine choirs to display their talent and versatility. The poise and determination of the choir members were great contributing factors in the quality of music that was presented.

GOLDEN TASSELS

The year was off to a good start for the Beta Club with the push it needed from the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Foot-stomping and knee-slapping seemed to be right at home at the dance. The club, led by its supportive leaders, participated in many fund raising activities. The year was wound up by the annual dance marathon for scholarships. Besides dancing, bike-riding, penny snatching, basketball shooting, and ping ponging were also among the marathon events.

PERSISTENCE MAKES PERFECT

The National Honor Society is an organization composed of only the top academic students in the school. To be eligible, one must have maintained a 3.5 average for all his years of high school since ninth grade. He must also uphold the school standards and have leadership ability. The major function of the club is to be a goal for every conscientious student to strive towards. The club also is responsible for senior superlatives and senior wills.

EXPLORING NEW HORIZONS

Led by imaginative officers, this year's Distant Horizons was involved in many activities. They were supported by this year's A.F.S. student, Benno Weber. In year's past, the A.F.S. students have been seniors, but this year the junior class was honored. Besides supporting the A.F.S. program, the club went on many field trips and visited historic places in Virginia. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Miss Hilton, the club worked toward keeping the interest and support of the students for their club and the A.F.S. program.

One of the club's members, Greg Williams, flashes a smile for one of the ideas presented at the club meeting.

A LEARNING EXPERIENCE

This year the Science Club participated in many school and community activities. Among them were aiding the Science Department in getting things in order for the school year, assisting in the Fall Foliage Festival, and helping with the Skyline Kennel Club Dog Show. An added dimension for the club this year was the presentation by guest speakers of such interesting topics as hypnotism and astronomy. Combining fun, work, and learning experiences is what the Science Club was all about in 1975-76.

Waiting for inspiration for a new project idea, Karen Helsley contemplates the situation.

HELPING OUT

Begun for the purpose of helping elementary school students to understand the world around them, the Student Organization on Developing Attitudes (SODA) proved to be a great success again this year. The SODA students mapped out strategy in classroom discussions and then went out into the elementary schools. Among the many topics discussed with students were drugs, alcohol, and behavior.

SODA students work diligently at a project presented to them by their SODA representatives.

PANTOMIME

The Professional potential of this year's Drama Club became more evident as the W.H.S. players progressed through the events of the year. The club was greatly benefited by the new Louis W. Spilman Auditorium in which the dramatists participated in the dedication ceremonies. They were, as in other years outstanding in their performance in competition in the area, where they received a rating of excellent. Many factors helped to influence the success of this year's Drama Club.

Demonstrating her acting ability, Corrine McCutchen poses for her audience.

In the One-Act Play, "Flowers of Lidice", Diana Fitzgerald warns her fiancé Greg Bradley that the Nazis intend to prevent their marriage.

Portraying prisoners-of-war in "Flowers of Lidice" are Ann Fowler and Vickie Floyd.

EXTRA PUSH

1975-76 was the first year for the Thespian Society at Waynesboro High. Developed as an offspring of the Drama Club, a member had to gain a set number of points in order to join; the points received for participation in various plays. With the addition of the new auditorium, it was possible for the Thespians and their co-members of the Drama Club to present their productions in a more professional atmosphere.

ATHLETICS PLUS

The Lettermans Club this year consisting of more members than last year, had almost half of the club composed of girls. In recent years more emphasis has been placed on women's athletics, and Waynesboro High School is no exception. This year, as in past years, the club sponsored a Powder-Pull Football game between the junior and senior girls. They also sold toboggans to help the treasury of the club. The Lettermans Club is one of which any school most likely would be proud.

The junior girls practice diligently for the up-coming game.

ATHLETES DISPLAY RESPONSIBILITY

F.C.A. member Kinny Shifflett accurately partrays the "Fonze."

This year the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was under the sponsorship of Mr. Dick Moyer with the help of Mr. Merv Wooten. The purpose of the club was to present a good Christian example, not only for teammates, but also for their opponents. The Christian attitude that the club carried into their athletic endeavors helped to make Waynesboro High School's teams ones to be respected and admired.

Assistant sponsor Merv Wooten overlooks one of the F.C.A. meetings.

THE KEY RING

This year the Key Club was involved in many current activities. During Fall Foliage Festival, the Key Club sold souvenirs and other miscellaneous items to help the community in its annual fund drive. Key Clubbers were active in school functions, too. As usual, members could be seen during the intermissions of the basketball games faithfully holding onto the rope protecting the court. Other activities included the annual Key-Keyette Dance and basketball game. The year was wound up successfully with the election of their new officers.

Displaying his excuse, Doug Flora happily walks away from his chore of keeping the crowds off the court at intermission.

Helping Waynesboro's "Fall Foliage Festival," Key Clubbers John Eckman, Doug Flora, and Cam Epes stand proudly amid their wares.

Helping the cheerleaders out, some of the Key Club members “give them a hand.”

Scott Steagall and his date Judy Thompson seem to be enjoying themselves.

Avoiding the camera, Robbie Allan appears embarrassed while Michele Bond is pleased.

CANDY APPLES

The Keyettes completed another busy year under the leadership of Karen Furr. The year's activities were started with the traditional candy apples at football games and followed with hectic times spent ushering for civic activities, preparing for the popular Keyette-Key Club dance and the successful initiation (complete with a beauty contest). After Christmas, the Keyettes were busy with Keyette Valentines, a rummage sale, bake sales, and a spaghetti supper, ending with the intense rivalry of the Keyette-Key Club basketball game. The Keyettes have once again exemplified their motto "We Serve."

Trying to avoid stepping on his dates feet, Doug Gillette watches the other interesting couples.

RED HOT PEP

Due to the capable and high-spirited officers, this year's Pep Club was a huge success. With a variety of skits ranging from the kissing match between the players and their mothers to Ollie Orange and our own turkey, Mr. Pace, they entertained the early morning crowds at the Friday pep rallies. With Crazy Day, Fifties Day, and Purple and Gold Day, the Pep Club helped build up spirit for the Homecoming game. Many hours and much effort was spent in making the dance a memorable occasion, highlighted by the music of Soul Experience. Missy McMullan, as this year's queen, presided over the dance with her usual exuberance. All in all, the 1975-1976 Pep Club displayed their spirit in many ways.

CHANNEL TO SUCCESS

The major function of the Student-Faculty Board of WHS is to promote better relations between the student-body and the faculty and administration. As a replacement for the former Student Cooperative Association, the board was formed several years ago to help students express their ideas on how to better the school atmosphere for all concerned. The board is composed of representatives from each class plus members of the faculty.

Board member Teresa Lovegrove explains an idea to the board that was referred to her by a classmate.

Smiling unbelievably, Dixon Tucker can't comprehend what he has to do for the club's next project.

ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS

One of the younger clubs at the high school, Protect Your Environment, is for the ecology-conscious student. PYE has helped the community not only by raking leaves, but also by collecting newspapers and other paper products for recycling. WHS is proud of the part PYE has taken in the cause to clean up our environment.

Working diligently, Janice Hammer offers her assistance in the library.

Chairperson Debbie Wagner takes the responsible position behind the desk.

L to R: Mrs. Peggy Browning, Janice Hammer, Miss Elizabeth Shackelford, Cynthia Sutherland, Debbie Wagner.

AID TO ALL

Helping out in the library is the major function of the Library Council. From checking out books to helping the librarians move, the members of the council were a tremendous aid. Although few members were on the council, the work they did kept the library functioning. This year the club was led by the librarians, Miss Shackelford and for the first time, Mrs. Browning.

Donating all their spare time to the library, Cynthia Sutherland and Janice Hammer help keep things in order.

FHA President Margie Coffey is served by Beth Pardee at the club's Christmas Open House.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME

The Future Homemakers of America has as its main purpose the providing of needed homemaking skills and attitudes for today and tomorrow. Students are able to learn more about home life, and somehow it seems more pleasant here away from home. While not all of the school's home economics students are members, everyone is given many opportunities to broaden their abilities in this co-curricular club.

Mrs. Faye Huffer, a guiding force behind the FHA, opens many doors of opportunities for club members.

Sponsors B.J. Harding and Faye Huffer pose with FHA'ers Wanda Bowles (seated), Betty Poole, Melissa Ditton, and Suzanne Foley.

SERVICE BY DECA

1975-76 was a year of service for the DECA Club of Waynesboro High School: Service to the school by running the concession stands for home football games, service to the community by helping promote the Fall Foliage Festival, and service to our elderly citizens by caroling at the District Home during Christmas.

VICA PROMOTES PROGRESS

VICA continued its outstanding progress this year with a varied program of activities. Chapter officers were given training at a District 6 Leadership Workshop at Warren County High. This paid off as the club conducted a successful "Bicentennial Candle" sales project and donated a Christmas basket to a needy Waynesboro family. In competition with other VICA students at the district meet in Winchester, WHS's Gordon Claytor placed second in extemporaneous speaking while Pete Satterwhite came in second in current events. The club's activities culminated in the Annual VICA Banquet where the members and faculty sponsors were recognized for their contributions to a highly successful year.

A NEW FACE IN AN OLD PLACE

The Art Guild is a newly formed club at Waynesboro High School consisting of art and craft students who are willing to be of service in the art department. Students participating in activities receive an art letter upon completion of ten projects in the guild. Of forty-four working members, nineteen are patch holders. The projects this year include the keeping of the GIANT CALENDAR of Waynesboro High School events and clippings which is located at the main entrance to the school, painting the spirit signs at athletic events, and making program covers for W.H.S. performances.

Planting shrubbery outside the art patio are John Hoy and Kathy Placko.

Some members of the Art Guild who helped with the table decorations for the Virginia Museum Chapter's annual banquet are: SITTING: Robert Killian. STANDING: Mike Lafferty and Randy Dixon.

The Art Guild members responsible for the upkeep of the GIANT CALENDAR are Eileen John, Joan Rogers, Van Anderson, and Debbie Wagner.

NEW PERSPECTIVE

One of the new clubs started this year at Waynesboro High School was the Newspaper Staff. Headed by the editor, Irene Ultee, the club held a contest to select a name for the paper. John Hoy submitted the winning name, Rat Trap. Although few issues were published, the Rat Trap received an excellent start.

Editor Irene Ultee smiles winningly for the camera.

Last, but not least, thanks to my family and friends for your support and love.

THE SPIRIT OF 76 LIVES FOREVER!!!!!!

Candi,

Boy are we going to have fun this year. We've got T.V. Show and Dr. Se. Prom - Explosions. Great! Never forget Pizza Party and our Sensuality. <sup>HA</sup> <sup>HA</sup> Remember, Look out for Tennis Jocks. Take care and see ya a lot, Love Sheryllyn.

Candi

Talk about ragin' papers! (us?)

We were the cock-ass Cajuns of the great sophomore class (Wow the great Junior Class) That was some great year.

Explosions - wow! And don't forget Pumpkin roasted potatoes and raw hamburger - ~~and~~
"Strons! Strons! Strons!" Melinda go summer in our skivvies - how about without skivvies? Sounds like fun!! Poor Mrs. Buttrick we gave him such a hard time but at least we made up for it by burying him rats. (Good Mrs Buttrick got a bit tired of us always asking for the potty paddle so we could go to the bathroom.
I'm sure Mrs. Buttrick never had a more loving class than us, and that's a fact. You know, there weren't many "Academic" papers that I did but we didn't have peanut butter and jelly, or spaghetti or something on them. That goes for Geometry too. Our lunch table sure was a sight!
Books and glasses of water shown all over the place. And of course, Melinda never got more from Brad a sandwich. Thanks for being you and being such a wonderful, understanding friend. I just know what I would have were boojin' it up so bad, you didn't know what you were doing. Right? That's almost as good as me. Gruber, right? I hope you realize this ain't just anyone writing this but a person w/ the vocab. of an average college freshman. Yippie! Remember that wk. before school when we sang "She done me wrong" all day every day. + "Gone at Last" in Phys. Ed. all the time. Such patience those teachers had, esp. Mrs. Flora. Remember when Sandy was singing that song + kind of goofed? We haven't had one of our 12:30 early days yet but remember them after we start having them. Remember tonight when we went on the cookout. Let's hope Explorers is really a lot of fun. I think it will be (esp. if we get some good-lookin' guys?) I know you'd rather for Rick but, well good luck anyway. Remember how we flunked all our Geometry tests together last year.

Yippie. I should be studying my Algebra now. I'll tell Mr.
Rutledge it's all your fault if I flunk. Remember the night we took Suzi to babysit + you tried to break my leg + the time you cracked it slingin' me down the hall. Remember the B. Club marathon when you + dummies rode your bikes all day long. Remember (it was only a few days ago, how could you forget?)
asking Jimmie (y?) to the dance + living in free <sup>(it's still)</sup> sandy G. might kill us. Wait till we start statsing right!! Well damn + everybody! Remember #72? Wait, wait, how'd they make a phonograph bully left right overpowa pitch without us seeing it? Oh well, better luck next time! That goes to me too but wait it impolite to wish good luck to one's own self. Who cares?

Remember? Good Luck, Self!

Get up off that thing. shake it

it's better!

You're gonna need it!

Melinda

Yippie

I still crazy
for all these years
